Conference Information

The 49th Annual Telecommunications Policy Research Conference will be held virtually this year due to travel restrictions caused by the global pandemic. Each registrant will be sent a link to our scheduling tool, SCHED, which will allow you access to each of the sessions. Sessions will be recorded and archived for future viewing. While we look forward to exchanging ideas online, we hope to see you in person in September 2022 to celebrate our 50th anniversary! Please contact Laura Verinder, laura.verinder@gmail.com with any questions.

Conference Registration

Online registration is available at <https://www.tprcweb.com/>.

Conference Fees

	Before Aug. 31	After Sept. 1
Student	$ 35	$ 55
Authors/Co-Authors	$ 75	$100
Academic	$ 95	$120
Government	$110	$135
Not for profit	$ 95	$120
Industry	$145	$250

Registration fees cover all conference sessions and access to recorded sessions.

12:00pm	Deploying Fiber in Appalachia: A study of fiber deployment, challenges, funding, and the impacts of broadband connectivity in Eastern Kentucky Udayan Das, Loyola University Chicago and Keith Gabbard, People Rural Telephone Cooperative (PRTC) Remote and Indigenous Broadband: A Comparison of Canadian and US Regulatory Initiatives Heather Hudson, University of Alaska Anchorage, Rob McMahon, University of Alberta and Bill Murdoch, Clear Sky Connection The Effects of Broadband Deployment in Rural Areas: Evaluating the Connect America Fund Program Luisa Nazareno, Georgia State University and Justina Jose, Georgia State University	Regulation of platform market access by the U.S. and China: Neo-mercantilism in digital services Milton Mueller, Georgia Institute of Technology, Karim Farhat, Georgia Institute of Technology Three delusions and a new path: the political economy of the Chinese food traceability system Blue Miaoran Dong, Carleton University Telecom’s Road to 2030: “What if We Were to Do Nothing?” Richard Taylor, Penn State University	Disparate impacts of new technologies on women and minorities: The case of broadband in the U.S. Peter Wang, University of Florida and Mark Jamison, University of Florida COVID-19 and African E-Learning Systems: Structural and Institutional Strategies for Resilience and Antifragility Patience Akpan-Obong, Arizona State University Spatial Patterns of Purposeful Social Networking and Socioeconomic Influences: Towards a Mature, Inclusive Networked Society in the U.S. Avijit Sarkar, University of the Redlands, James Pick, University of the Redlands and Tridev Raut, University of the Redlands	Social Media as Contractual Networks: A Bottom Up Check on Content Moderation Niva Elkin-Koren, Tel Aviv University, Giovanni De Grigorio, University of Oxford – Centre for Socio-Legal Studies, Maayan Perel, Netanya Academic College Privacy Tradeoffs: Who Should Make Them, and How? Jane Bambauer, University of Arizona The view from above: Framing of digital privacy in post-Cambridge Analytica congressional hearings Dmitry Epstein, The Hebrew University of Jerusalem and Rotem Medzini, The Hebrew University of Jerusalem	A Comparative analysis of Cyber Sovereignty Policies in China and the EU Yik Chan Chin, Beijing National University and Ke Li, Beijing National University “Everyone Had to be Part of This” Social Media and Uprising Participation Decisions Carolyn Gideon, Tufts University A Systematic Approach to Reduce Digital Waste Steven Weber, University of California Berkeley

Plenary Session

Wednesday, September 22, 1:30 pm ET

Doreen Bogdan-Martin, Director of the Telecommunication Development Bureau of the International Telecommunication Union, the Secretariat of ITU-D

Ms. Bogdan-Martin is Director of the Telecommunication Development Bureau of the International Telecommunication Union, the Secretariat of ITU-D. She was elected at the 2018 ITU Plenipotentiary Conference in Dubai, and was named as the first woman in the 153-year history of the ITU to hold an elected office. Previously, Bogdan-Martin was Chief of Strategic Planning and Membership from 2008-2018. Bogdan-Martin also serves as the Executive Director of the Broadband Commission for Sustainable Development, Co-Founder of the EQUALS partnership to bridge the digital divide, Co-creator of the GIGA school connectivity program with UNICEF, and creator of the Generation Connect initiative. As Director, she has focused on delivering new partnerships, global initiatives on connectivity, innovation, digital transformation and youth engagement.

Panel Session

Wednesday, September 22, 2:30 pm ET

Radio Frequency Spectrum Efficiency – New Developments and Trends

Moderator: Dale Hatfield.

Panelist:
Mariam Sorond, Chief R&D Officer, CableLabs
Tom Sawanobori, CTO, CTIA
Frederick Moorefield, Deputy Chief Information Officer for Command, Control, Communications and Computers and Information Infrastructure Capabilities, Office of the Secretary of Defense, Chief Information Officer

Spectrum efficiency is an important pillar of spectrum management given the rapid growth in the needs for more spectrum. It is an ideal topic for expert discussion, and it is an excellent graduate school research topic. Spectrum efficiency can be quite controversial at times when major spectrum-using entities disagree on the definition, metrics, and service rules for spectrum usage. TPRC has convened a panel of spectrum management experts to cover current controversies or high-profile developments associated with improvements or new policies seeking to achieve more efficient use of increasingly scarce spectrum. Panelist will provide updates on these issues along with their view of current knowledge gaps where further research is needed to better understand how to address these challenges.

Poster Session

Wednesday, September 22, 2:30 pm ET

- THE CASE OF 6G AND BEYOND
Patrick Fiati, Bluecrest University, Ghana
- Duty of care competition and moderation
Jonathan Cave, University of Warwick and UK Regulatory Policy Committee
- Home is Where the High Speed Is: Household Determinants of Broadband Internet Subscription
Michael Martin, United States Census Bureau
- The Effect of Paid Peering Fees on Broadband Prices and Consumer Surplus
Ali Nikkhah, University of California, Irvine and Scott Jordan, University of California, Irvine
- A Study of Promoting Sustainable Mobile Broadband Adoption. - Focusing on Developing Countries for Achieving SDGs -
Sobee Shinohara, KDDI Research

- Simulating and Estimating Structural Spectrum Auction Parameters: An Application to the C-Band Auction
Yong Paek, The Brattle Group and Ezra Frankel, The Brattle Group

TPRC Town Hall

Wednesday, September 22 3:30 pm - 4:30 pm ET

The information Society: Restoring the Future

Facilitators:

Eli Noam, Columbia University

Johannes Bauer, Quello Center, Michigan State University

Session Topics

- The Information Society: promise and reality
- Is the scholarship of the information sector inherently off-base, and why?
- Is the Information Society a happy society?
- What do we do next to advance a happier information society?
- How to deal with market power
- How to deal with AI and algorithms
- How to spend the billions of new infrastructure money

Paper Sessions Thursday, September 23

	11. Broadband- State/Local Policy	12. Law & Economics- Platform Regulation	13. Law & Economics- Network Contracts	14. Spectrum
	Moderator: Randy May, Free State Foundation	Moderator: Tarlton Gillespie, Microsoft		Moderator: Grace Khoh, Nokia
10:30 am	Do ‘Dig Once’ and Permitting Policies Improve Fiber Availability? Christina Biedny, Oklahoma State University, Brian Whitacre, Oklahoma State University and Roberto Gallardo, Purdue University A program evaluation of state broadband grant programs William Rinehart, Center for Growth and Opportunity Effects of Market Structure on Broadband Quality in Local U.S. Residential Service Markets Kenneth Flamm, University of Texas at Austin and Pablo Vargas, University of Texas at Austin	Universal Digital Ad Transparency Laura Edelson, New York University, Jason Chuang, Mozilla and Erika Franklin Fowler, Wesleyan University, Michael Franz, Bowdoin College, Travis N. Ridout, Washington State University Too Hot to Handle?: Native Advertising and the Firestone Dilemma Eliezer Silberberg, University of Minnesota Law School Rethinking Product Liability Rules for Online Marketplaces: A Comparative Perspective Christoph Busch, University of Osnabrueck	The Risks and Rewards in Weaponizing Spectrum Planning at the International Telecommunication Union Rob Frieden, Penn State University Incentives and optimal time of investment in New Zealand’s building-blocks regulation of its FTTH open-access network Fernando Beltran, University of Auckland Smart Contracts, Real-Virtual World Convergence and Policy Implications William Lehr, Massachusetts Institute of Technology	IMT-2020 Standardization: Lessons from 5G and Future Perspectives for 6G Mohamed El-Moghazi, NTRA and Jason Whalley, Northumbria University Novel-Infrastructure Bidders’ Impact on Cost-Based Subsidy Auctions: Evidence from RDOF Phase I Jonathan Lee, The Brattle Group and Coleman Bazelon, The Brattle Group, Paroma Sanyal, The Battle Group Techno-Economic Analysis of The Shared Virtualized Resources in 5G Small Cells Operating in Millimeter-Wave Spectrum Bands Waleed Almarshedi, University of Colorado Boulder, Martin Weiss, University of Pittsburgh and Kevin Gifford, University of Colorado Boulder

15. Broadband-Measurement

Moderator: Hernan Galperin, University of Southern California

16. Law & Economics-Platform Regulation 2

Moderator: Jonathan Levy

17. Law & Economics-Interconnection

Moderator: Jane Coffin, Internet Society

18. Global Network Policy

Moderator: Stuart Brotman, University of Tennessee Knoxville

19. Spectrum-Rights

Moderator: Mohamed El-Moghazi, National Telecom Regulatory Authority of Egypt

12:00pm

Measuring Library Broadband Networks to Address Knowledge Gaps and Data Caps

Colin Rhinesmith, Simmons University, Chris Ritzo, Measurement Lab, Jie Jiang, Malana Krongelb, Caroline Cocossa, Peter Dutilloy, Susan Kennedy

Is remote working a privilege? A spatial Durbin approach of digital infrastructure and workplace mobility change during the COVID-19 pandemic in the U.S. Ryan Wang, Penn State University

Measurement, Meaning and Purpose: Exploring the M-Lab NDT Dataset

David Clark, Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Sara Wedeman, Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Safeguarding Public Values in Cooperation with Big Tech Companies: The Case of the Austrian Contact Tracing App Stopp Corona

Valerie Steinkogler, EMJMD DCLead

A Comparative Lens on Prominence Regulation and Its Implications for Media Pluralism. a Working Paper Eleonora Maria Mazzoli, London School of Economics and Political Science

Into the Next Generation of Online Video: OTT Video 3.0

Eli Noam, Columbia University

The Importance of National Data Infrastructure in Low- and Middle-income Countries.

Sharada Srinivasan, University of Pennsylvania and The World Bank Group, Niccolo Comini, The World Bank Group and Michael Minges, ICT Data

Peer Pressure? Exploring the drivers of Internet peering between competing national carriers

Lourdes Montenegro, National University of Singapore

Internet Interconnection, Ecosystem Fragmentation — Towards a Conceptual Foundation of Generalized Virtual Networks Volker Stocker, Weizenbaum TU Berlin, Günter Knieps, University of Freiburg and Christoph Dietzel, Max-Planck-Institute for Informatics and DE-CIX

Challenges in measuring the Internet for the public Interest

kc Claffy, University of California San Diego and David Clark, Massachusetts Institute of Technology

A Framework for Expressing Registration Data Directory Services (née Whois) Rules Steve Crocker, Edgemoor Research Institute

The Diffusion of National Domain Name Dispute Resolution Policies: A Network Approach. Ryan Wang, Penn State University, Yang Bai, Penn State University, Jenna Grzeslo, Penn State University and Krishna Jayakar, Penn State University

On the Coexistence of Disparate Spectrum Users: A Property Rights Mismatch approach

Martin Weiss, University of Pittsburgh, Iliia Murtazashvili, University of Pittsburgh and Prashant Krishnamurthy, University of Pittsburgh

A Macroeconomic Model of Federal and Commercial Spectrum Usage. Carolyn Kahn, The Mitre Corporation, Jack McQueston, The Mitre Corporation, Susan Hanson, The Mitre Corporation, Zekarias Hussein, The Mitre Corporation and Dan Brown, The Mitre Corporation, Haeme Nam, The Mitre Corporation

Spectrum Rights in an Adaptive & Reconfigurable Wireless World. Rohit Singh, Carnegie Mellon University and Doug Sicker, University of Colorado Denver

Plenary Session

Thursday, September 23, 1:30 pm ET

Student Paper Presentations and Awards

- Detecting effects of misinformation through emotion and trace behavior, Kristen Sussman, University of Texas at Austin
- Title "Zero": Ending the infinite loop of classifications for broadband via a technology agnostic definition, Matthew Chung, University of California Berkeley School of Law, Harrison Geron, University of California Berkeley School of Law, David Fang, University of California Berkeley School of Law and Walter Mostowy, University of California Berkeley School of Law
- Wanted: Spectrum Bounty Hunters, Wilson Scarbeary, University of Colorado Law School

Panel Session

Thursday, September 23, 2:30 pm ET

Here Comes the Quantum ARPANET

Moderator: Jane Bambauer, University of Arizona, Law

Saikat Guha, University of Arizona, Optical Sciences

Dirk Englund, MIT, Electrical Engineering & Computer Science

Ines Montano, Northern Arizona University, Applied Physics

Christopher Yoo, University of Pennsylvania, Law

Scientists around the world are quickly learning to leverage the power of quantum physics to supercharge digital technologies. Quantum Computing is the most well-known application, and its development is likely to enable many benefits (i.e. pattern recognition) as well as risks (i.e. breaking public encryption). But researchers are also making fast progress in the development of Quantum Networking. Quantum networks take advantage of the mysterious-but-predictable properties of superposition and entanglement by sending particles prepared as “qubits” in a quantum-entangled state through a specialized communications architecture. These quantum networks, and the quantum Internet that they will eventually form, are likely to bring another sea change to communications policy. They will enable quantum-based data encryption, they will facilitate networks of quantum sensors, and they will create the infrastructure for blind quantum computing and a robust Internet of Things.

This panel will convene academic researchers who are actively developing the components, protocols, and educated workforce for Quantum networking technologies. Panelists will explain how quantum communications differ from classical communications, describe the current state of development, and discuss the challenges to researchers, industry, and regulators as we create and prepare for these new, transformational technologies.

Poster Session

Thursday, September 23, 2:30 pm ET

- Deficiencies in the Disclosures of Privacy Policies and in User Choice
Scott Jordan, University of California, Irvine, Siddharth Narasimhan, University of California, Irvine and Jina Hong, University of California, Irvine
- Intended and unintended impacts of machine learning for education
Rediet Abebe, University of California, Berkeley, Tolani Britton, University of California, Berkeley, Lydia T. Liu, University of California, Berkeley and Serena Wang, University of California, Berkeley

- Impact of Interference from Millimeter-Wave Cellular Deployments on Weather Satellites
Andreea Palade, RWTH Aachen University, Andra Voicu, RWTH Aachen University, Ljiljana Simić, RWTH Aachen University, and Petri Mähönen, RWTH Aachen University
- Ethical Artificial Intelligence in the context of the European Union: gamification of policy-making and simulating decision processes
Davor Ljubenkov, imec-SMIT-VUB
- Democratic accountability in computational infrastructure: the case of contact tracing technology, Valerie Steinkogler, EMJMD DCLead
- Simplifying License Information through the use of a Knowledge Graph
Udayan Das, Loyola University Chicago, Vaishali Nagpure, Illinois Institute of Technology and Cindy Hood, Illinois Institute of Technology

Panel Session

Thursday, September 23, 2:30 pm ET

Global cyber governance issues in a multi-polar world

Moderator:

Milton Mueller, Georgia Institute of Technology and Director, Internet Governance Project

Panelists:

Tatiana Tropina, Assistant Professor in Cybersecurity Governance at the Institute of Security and Global Affairs at Leiden University (

Konstantinos Komaitis, Senior Director, Policy Strategy and Development at the Internet Society.

Alex Engler, Rubenstein Fellow in Governance Studies at The Brookings Institution

Jackie Grace Schneider, Hoover Fellow at the Hoover Institution

This panel addresses some of the most pressing global ICT governance issues posed by the increasing importance of the internet, data and software applications. Topics covered include cybersecurity and privacy, including Europe's new Network and Information Security proposal (NIS2), International Cooperation on AI regulation, threats of fragmentation of governance or technical compatibility, and the prospects of a so-called digital Cold War.

Paper Sessions Friday, September 24

	20. Law & Economics- Big Questions	21. Security- Infrastructure	22. Law & Economics- Platform Competition	23. Tech-User Studies
	Moderator: Armand Musey, Summit Ridge Group	Moderator: Lisa Folkes, FCC	Moderator: Jeff Prince, Indiana University	Moderator: Keyla Hernandez-Ulloa, FCC
10:30am	Is Speed Enough? Examining the Definition of Broadband and Its Implications for Public Policy David Reed, University of Colorado Boulder Mapping the 5G Leadership Landscape: The Impact of Global Telecommunications Standard Setting on U.S. Strategy and Policy Alexandra Bruer, ITIF and Doug Brake, ITIF Social Media and Privacy Laws and Regulations in Mongolia. Undrah Baasanjav, Southern Illinois University Edwardsville	Toward Grading Cybersecurity &amp; Resilience Posture for Cyber Physical Systems Rohit Singh, University of Colorado Boulder, Shaun T. ## Plenary Session

Fireside Chat

Conversation with Acting Chairwoman Jessica Rosenworcel, FCC and Nicol Turner Lee, Brookings Institution, Senior Fellow, Governance Studies and Director, Center for Technology Innovation

Federal Communications Commission Acting Chairwoman Jessica Rosenworcel believes that the future belongs to the connected. She works to promote greater opportunity, accessibility, and affordability in our communications services in order to ensure that all Americans get a fair shot at 21st century success. She believes strong communications markets can foster economic growth and security, enhance digital age opportunity, and enrich our civic life.

From fighting to protect net neutrality to ensuring access to the internet for students caught in the Homework Gap, Jessica has been a consistent champion for connecting all. She is a leader in spectrum policy, developing new ways to support wireless services from Wi-Fi to video and the internet of things. She also is responsible for developing policies to help expand the reach of broadband to schools, libraries, hospitals, and households across the country.

Dr. Nicol Turner Lee is a senior fellow in Governance Studies, the director of the Center for Technology Innovation, and serves as Co-Editor-In-Chief of TechTank. Dr. Turner Lee researches public policy designed to enable equitable access to technology across the U.S. and to harness its power to create change in communities across the world. Her work also explores global and domestic broadband deployment and internet governance issues. She is an expert on the intersection of race, wealth, and technology within the context of civic engagement, criminal justice, and economic development.

Panel Session

Friday, September 24, 2:30 pm ET

The Technical and Policy Considerations of using Machine Learning tools in Content Moderation

Moderator: Dhanaraj Thakur, Research Director at the Center for Democracy & Technology

Panelists:

Anima Anandkumar, Professor, Dept. of Computing + Mathematical Sciences, Caltech; and Director of Machine Learning Research at NVIDIA

Casey Fiesler, Assistant Professor, College of Media, Communication and Information, UC Boulder

Caitlin Vogus, Deputy Director of the Free Expression Project at the Center for Democracy & Technology

The sheer scale of uploaded user generated multimedia content has increased dramatically in recent years, leading to an explosion in the research and use of automated techniques to analyze and moderate it. These include two main categories of these techniques: matching tools (e.g., cryptographic hashing and perceptual hashing), and prediction tools (e.g., computer vision and computer audition techniques).

This panel features experts from academia, civil society, and industry, who will discuss the capabilities and limitations of automated tools for analyzing online multimedia content. We

TPRC2021 September 22-24, 2021

August 12 2021 – Program Subject to Change

will examine the human rights risks that need to be considered when using machine learning techniques in content moderation, and speakers will offer suggestions for safeguards that can help mitigate against these risks and limitations. This discussion can contribute to an increased and shared understanding of the role and impacts of ML tools used in content moderation systems for both large and small online platforms.
